WHY DID MR. W. H. CUSHING RESIGN HIS PORTFOLIO?
FACTS THAT WERE NOT PRESENTED TO COMMISSION, BUT ARE OF VITAL INTEREST TO ALBERTA ELECTORS

The Story of a Trip to the East When Mr. Cushing Attended the Laymen's Missionary Congress at Toronto and Also Made a Little Journey to Detroit, Where he Negotiated a Certain Draft—A Startling Series of Revelations of the Relations Between the Ex-Minister of Public Works and F. C. McMath, of Detroit, the President and General Manager of the Canadian Bridge Company, of Walkerville, Ontario.

Some time ago the Calgary Optimist made a statement respecting a draft for $4,900.00 which Mr. Cushing negotiated in Detroit on the 10th of April, 1909. When asked if he had any explanation to make concerning the published statement, Mr. Cushing said that he had not read the article and did not intend to make any explanation on the subject. The Optimist story may have been too brief to demand attention at the hands of Mr. Cushing, and in order to give him an opportunity to set himself right in the eyes of the public the following story of the transaction, which gives more details, is now presented. Mr. Cushing announced on more than one occasion that his mission was to drive the grafting element in politics out of business in Alberta. An excellent opportunity now awaits him to fulfil his mission

Stickler for Probity

When the legislature met on February 10th of the present year the most earnest stickler for righteousness and truth in public affairs and probity in public men was the honorable W. H. Cushing, who for nearly five years had held the position of Minister of Public Works in the Alberta legislature.

Not satisfied with occupying the honorable position to which he had been called by the Premier of the Province, he aspired to the Premiership direct and sought to create public sentiment that would enable him to attain that point of vantage. For years he had posed as one of the Salt of the Earth, and when he opened a campaign that claimed for its object the tearing down of the tents of wickedness in high places there were many who believed that he was actuated by an honest desire to do good to the province of his adoption.

Ambition Caused Downfall

Milton tells us that it was by ambition that the angels fell, but whether that be so or not, nobody can deny that ambition or inordinate vanity was the cause of the downfall of Mr W. H. Cushing. With the aid of R. B. Bennett and a number of dissidents in the Liberal ranks, he succeeded in practically putting public business at a standstill in the legislature for a couple of months and, having resigned his portfolio, became the most ardent traducer of his former colleagues.

Commission Investigates

Eventually a commission was appointed by the legislature to investigate the allegations of Cushing and Bennett, and a long and tedious investigation ensued which has not been concluded up to the present time. With the questions that came within the jurisdiction of the commission this story has nothing to do, but as to one of the questions which the commission decided did not come within its competency, and which led to the undoing of W. H. Cushing, there is much that may be said

Towards the close of the sittings of the commission, and prior to its adjournment in May, Mr. Cushing, whose mission was declared to be to hunt down grafters, was placed on the witness stand to tell what he knew about public conditions and public men in the Province of Alberta. On the afternoon of the last day that he appeared as witness he was questioned by Counsel Biggar with reference to what he knew of certain movements of one W. H. Cushing when on a trip east shortly after the holding of the elections in Alberta in March, 1909.

A Blank Memory

Strange to say, although he professed to have an intimate knowledge of the goings and comings of his former colleagues in the matter of the alleged undoing of the province, he was absolutely at sea when questioned concerning the doings of W. H. Cushing and took advantage of a blank memory on several occasions during his examination. At other times the watchful eye of his guide, philosopher, friend and counsel, R. B. Bennett, saved him from himself.

This was exemplified in a special manner when the question of his trip to the east and visit to Detroit, shortly after the elections was brought to his notice by Mr. Biggar in cross-examination. In reply to questions he swore that he was down east on private business; that while in Detroit he borrowed some money; but that the money which he borrowed was not in connection with the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway. And then it was that the fostering care of his counsel, R. B. Bennett, was thrown around and about him like the shadow of a rock in a weary land, a shelter in a time of storm.

Escaped by Technicality

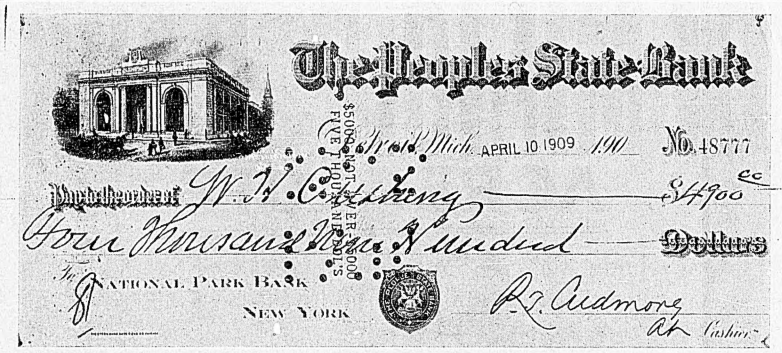

The commission decided, unless the money obtained by Cushing was received from the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway, the investigation concerning it did not come within their jurisdiction, and on the earnest plea of Counsel Bennett, the probing of Counsel Biggar was declared out of order, ultra vires, nulla bonna, outside of the competence of the court, or words to that effect

Mr. Cushing escaped before the commission by a technicality, but that is no reason why the public should not know the true story of the quick trip to Detroit so soon after the March election in 1909.

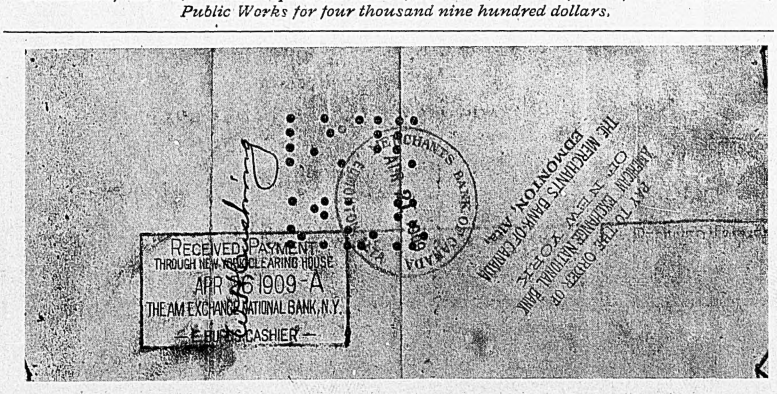

The Story

And this is the story: For a term of years the Canadian Bridge Company, Limited, of Walkerville, Ont., had been supplying the structural steel in connection with the construction of bridges and otherwise in the province of Alberta. For practically the same time, the Hon. W. H. Cushing had occupied the position of Minister of Public Works in the Province and had seen to it that the interests of the Walkerville Company were not lost sight of during that period. F. C McMath, a resident of Detroit, is the president and general manager of the Walkerville Company and took so deep an interest in the welfare of Mr. Cushing that he actually made a

SOME CITIES BAR FIGHT PICTURES

Several Mayors Will Prohibit Them—Say They Cause Race Feeling

ALL RIGHT IN NEW YORK

But Washington, Cincinnati and Baltimore Have Had Enough of Fight

Baltimore, July 6—Backed by the authority of the board of police commissioners, Marshall Farnan will request Mayor Mahool to prohibit the proposed exhibition in Baltimore of the moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight The mayor says that with a formal complaint before him, he will stop the pictures.

Washington, July 6—The moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight may be barred from the district of Columbia. Police Chief Sylvester has announced that he will do his utmost to preevnt the films from being shown here. He fears a repetition of the race riots which took place on the streets when it became known that the negro had won.

All Right in New York

New York, July 6.—Mayor Gaynor said today regarding the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures that he had no more right to stop them being shown here than he had to stop publication of the story of the fight.

Cincinnati, July 6.—Mayor Schwab said today that he would not allow the Johnson-Jeffries fight pictures to be shown in this city as they would promote race hatred.

ADJOURNED INDEFINITELY

Royal Commission Adjourned "Sine Die" This Morning

WILL WORK ON REPORT

Judges Will Start Work of Sifting Evidence, But May Call More Witnesses

The Royal Commission investigating the Alberta and Great Waterways having consumed thirty days in the actual taking of evidence and evidently feeling that it has not yet received sufficient, has adjourned sine die. At the sitting this morning Mr. Justice Scott said that as far as could be discovered the evidence was closed, but that in the making up of its report, the commission might find that it required further evidence on points that might not be quite clear or might wish to hear any further evidence that might be forthcoming in the meantime.

Already there has been forthcoming 3,300 typewritten foolscap pages of evidence, the perusal of which should be sufficient for any three persons, but the commission seems still to think that it has not been strenuous enough in the cause.

Report Will Be Conclusive

There is considerable doubt as to when the report will be submitted to the legislature, but there is no doubt that it will be a conclusive one when it is submitted.

The financing and the construction of the road, and the question as to whether there was any profit made on the sale of the bonds, were the main lines along which the investigation was conducted. An exhaustive enquiry was also made into whether any member of the former government or of the legislature was in any way interested, and as to whether the estimate of $20,000 per mile was too great or too small for the construction of the line.

Morgan's Letter

The contents of the letter from the Morgans was not disclosed in the proceedings yesterday, but it is known that the financial firm have written to the effect that Clarke's sale of the bonds to them was a bone fide business transaction and that neither he

"PENITENTIARY STAYS WHERE IT IS"—McCAULAY

Not Much Chance for Removal—City's Offer Unbusinesslike Says the Warden

Warden McCauley of the Alberta Penitentiary has expressed the opinion that it is not likely that the prison will be removed from its present site to one a little more distant from the centre of the city. He advances as his reason that the building could hardly be used for anything but a penitentiary and further that the city council do not make anything like a business offer for the present site when they suggest a basis of exchange of two acres in another district for one acre of the present site, as the latter is worth $1500 an acre and the former about $50.

BAR BIBLE FROM PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Supreme Court of Illinois Handed Down Very Important Decision

AFFECTS ILLINOIS ONLY

As Result of Decision All Forms of Religious Services Barred From Common Schools

Springfield, Ill., July 6.—The Illinois Supreme Court in a decision delivered a sweeping blow at all forms of religious services and instruction in the common schools of the state. The decision bars from the classroom the bible, prayers, and hymns of every sort.

Although the court frequently has ruled on the various features of this question it has never before gone squarely on record. The decision was written by Justice Dunn. Justices Cartwright and Hand dissented, but their opinion was not filed.

The decision was given in a case brought by the Catholic residents of Winchester, Scott county, to prevent daily religious exercises in the schools of that district. In the lower court they were refused a writ of mandamus but the supreme court reverses the lower court. The petition set up that the pupils were required each day to hear read portions from the King James version of the Bible, that they recited the King James version of the Lord's prayer, and that they sang sacred hymns, one of which was mentioned—"Grace Enough for Me."

MADRID [illegible]AX IN ALBERTA

Mounted Police Have Had Matter Brought to Their Notice

LETTERS SENT TO LACOMBE FARMERS

Beautiful Daughter, Big Fortune and Hero Languishing in Prison

SO SAYS THE SWINDLER

Asks Hoped-For Victim to Come to Spain and Get Him Out of Jail

A gang of expert swindlers, with a perfected organization, believed to be the same "Madrid" outfit that has been working for the past year or two in many parts of America, are now operating in the Province of Alberta. Letters received by two farmers at Lacombe give documentary evidence and also an insight into the workings of the scheme. The basis of the scheme is to promise a large sum of money for certain assistance and also to work upon the sympathies of the would-be victims.

It is hard to say where the headquarters of this gang is as the letters received by the would-be victims did not bear any post-mark, but all bore, "Madrid, Spain," on the date line, so they may have originally been written in that city

The method which is adopted is this: A certain district is picked upon and letters are mailed to many residents of that district informing them that the writer is in prison in Madrid and requests the assistance of the victim to obtain his release and also recover his baggage which the writer says has been seized. The swindler goes on to explain that he has a considerable amount of money in America, and that the document necessary in order to obtain the money is in a secret pocket in a portmanteau, which is under seizure. He says that to raise the seizure a payment of $2,400 is necessary and asks the victim to go to Spain and advance the money, his reward being that he will receive one-third of the amounts which the writed claims he has to his credit in America. If the victim accedes to the request he is met by agents of the gang on his arrival in Spain and led to pay the money over to a bogus court official. It is not necessary to add that the game is not a new one but at the same time it is the [illegible] of that

CONSERVATIVES CANNOT AGREE ON A PARTY LEADER

(By Long Distance Phone.)

Calgary, July 6.—The Conservatives are evidently having a hard time in selecting a leader for their party in this province, as up to three o'clock this afternoon they had not announced their choice and had evidently arrived at no conclusion.

Three names are mentioned as leaders: C. A. Magrath, the Conservative member in the Federal House for Medicine Hat, Rufus Pope and M. S McCarthy.

A provincial caucus will be called, but the date is not set yet.

Calgary, July 5.—The Conservative convention met at 10.30 this morning with J. D. Hyndman, vice-president of the provincial association, in the chair. It was a very representative gathering from all parts of the province. Only preliminary matters were talked over at the morning meeting.

The meetings this afternoon and evening were surrounded by every possible precaution to maintain the absolute secrecy of the proceedings. At a late hour tonight no inkling had been given as to the man selected by the special committee appointed for the purpose, and which met in the Grain Exchange Building, to be leader of the Conservative party in the provincial legislature.

Mr. Bennett will not resign for some time at least. He is sure to be present at another session og the House, and will brobably stay until the full time is expired. There is no truth in the rumor of his immediate resignation.

There are a number of politicians in the city, many going north tonight. At the Alberta Hotel the following were seen nearly all evening: Premier Sifton, Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Hon. A. J McLean, J. G. Clarke, opponent of Premier Sifton in Vermilion, Dr. Campbell, M.P.U., Jos. Stauffer, M.P.P., J. M. Glendenning, M.P.P., Malcolm McKenzie, M.P.P., Hon C. W. Fisher, M. Roberts, M. P.P., Jas. K. Cornwall, M.P.P., E. Michener, M.P.P., M. S. McCarthy, M. P., C. A. Magrath, M.P., Dr. Wranock, M.P.P. All say they are down only to see the fair.

SANE FOURTH WAS WELL OBSERVED

Chicago, July 6.—The restrained observance of the Fourth of July has resulted in a material decrease in the number of casualties in the country, according to figures compiled by the Chicago Tribune. This year's list of dead throughout the country so far as reported totals 28. Last year the same total was 44. The whole number of those injured last year was 2361. This year there were only 1278.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1910.

People who like their politics with lots of relish always get their money's worth when a provincial campaign comes around in Manitoba. We still persist in the belief that those hot, dry winds that the despatches are reporting from the province to the east are to be ascribed to the progress through the country of trains loaded down with special election editions of the Free Press and the Telegram. To belong to the opposite party one must necessarily at the present moment be an Ananias and a blackguard. The Telegram has outdone itself in its welcome to a once-esteemed fellow-citizen, Mr. Charles Young of the national transcontinental commission. He monopolized the editorial page, was cartooned on the front page and even the staff poet was turned loose upon him with the appended result:

Charley Young, of Ottawa Town,
Heard the train come whistling down;
He grabbed his wallet and started out,
"I'm off to the 'Peg,' they heard him shout.
"The boys down there are awaiting me.

They need the money, don't you see?"
So "Angel Charley" caught the train
And he's circulating here again;
And there's full-fledged joy 'mong the Liberal gang.

Who for aught than cash don't give a hang.
Look well to the divvy; let no man swear
That he got less than his rightful share.
Of the boodle fund from Ottawa town which "Angel Charley" hurried down.

Campaign poetry has certainly made large strides since the appearance of that soulful ditty bi Gl, "We'll ring the knell of boodling, boys."

The curtain is about to ring down on the judicial commission. It was a star attraction in its day, but some agons have passed since the fickle public turned its attention to other things. It lingered too long on the stage for any good purpose and, with all due respect to the members of the caste, no one will be sorry to hear the last of it.

Let our citizens beware of becoming puffed up with pride over the splendid new "Edmonton express" which pulled into the city on Monday night for the first time. Read what our ambitious and much-touted young rival to the west, Fort George, purposes to do. A dispatch from British Columbia appeared the other day in the New York Sun, of which the following is an extract:

"If airships can be employed to connect Fort George with points on the Canadian Pacific Railway, a very obvious difficulty in Cariboo's colonization will be solved. A group of capitalists particularly interested has therefore sent an agent to Berlin to patronize the new German agency of communication and to investigate all incidental costs in connection with the possible establishment of a similar airship service in central British Columbia.

"If satisfactory arrangements can be made the inauguration of aerial communication between Fort George and Ashcroft may be brought about by next spring at least. The German airship service covers a route 300 miles in length and the dirigible employed is said to be able to travel 700 miles without a stop. The speed on the first trip averaged almost 35 miles, or better than that of the ordinary passenger train on many western railroads. The lifting capacity was twenty-two tons, while with twenty passengers the total weight of the load carried as only five tons and a half, including the restaurant car and other equipment for the comfort of the passengers.

"Such an airship might easily be navigated from points on the Canadian Pacific Railway mainland to the Cariboo, the Chilcotin or Fort George. If two or three stops were made on the way at bases like Quesnel it would not be necessary to go more than 100 miles in a single flight en route from Ashcroft to Fort George and vice versa."

The suggestion should not be lost upon our own Board of Trade. With homeseekers for the interior of B. C. being taken by Zeppelin transport, why should we wait for our much-desired railway to the Peace River? It might be necessary to engage a whole fleet of airships to take in a single family, with the stock, implements and household effects, but think what a fine advertisement it would be and when it comes to advertising one has to "go some" to keep up with the enterprising boosters of Fort George. As a proof of this, nothing could serve better than the expert press agent's effort from which the above is quoted.

The Bawlf Sun tells of the recent visit to that bustling town of a party of nineteen business men from Norwood, Ontario. This village had recently been devastated by fire and these gentlemen, having been burned out, decided to come west to look for locations. Several decided to remain in Bawlf. The incident goes to show how serious a matter a fire must be to one of those small communities, so frequently met with in an eastern province or state, which "have run half up the hill, beneath a blazing sun and then sat down to rest." With the west calling as it does, such an event brings next to obliteration as a business centre.

What Others Say

A KING NOT A GENTLEMAN

(Liverpool Daily Post)

When the Duke of Wellington, in 1820, visited George IV. to overcome his resistance to the appointment of Canning as Foreign Secretary, "Good God, Arthur," said the King, "you don't mean to propose to me that fellow as Secretary for Foreign Affairs! It is impossible! I said, on my honor as a gentleman, I should never be one of my ministers again. You hear, Arthur; on my honor as a gentleman." "Pardon me, sire," the Duke replied, "I don't agree with you at all. Your Majesty is not a gentleman." The King was startled, but the soldier-Duke held his ground, and continued: "Your Majesty, I say, is not a gentleman, but the Sovereign of England, with duties to your people far above any to yourself; and these duties render it imperative that you should at this time employ the abilities of Mr. Canning." George IV. was a constitutional monarch, and with a long-drawn breath replied, "Well, if I must, I must," and Canning became Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. Tories and self-styled Unionists who are working themselves into a fluster about the use of the King's prerogative need to be reminded of this incident. The Duke of Wellington knew the constitution a good deal better than they do. He knew that the occupant of the throne is neither a gentleman nor a personality, but an institution.

SUMMER TIME ADVERTISING

(Toronto Globe)

From a number of standpoints it is proposed to discuss this question of advertising in the summer time. There is a lot of it done, of course, a good deal more than there used to be. But there are still many business men who take the ground that it is not particularly necessary. Business, they say, slackens off in the summer; it is a time for rest and for loafing a little bit. And yet these men wonder that, though their business shows some increase over previous years, the increase is traceable to certain months. They agree that those are the selling months. They forget or overlook the fact that they are also the advertising months. If they turned their attention to that phase of the situation they would soon find themselves facing the question, "If it pays to advertise for ten months in the year, would it not pay better to advertise all the year round?"

RENO'S CLAIMS TO CELEBRITY

(Vancouver Province)

The little Nevada town of Reno, with its 5000 inhabitants, formerly enjoyed merely the distinction of being the focus of the divorce business of the United States. One day last week there were 165 cases on the divorce court list. Now, however, it has the further merit of being the chosen place for what will probably be the last exhibition of degraded pugilism. Pugilism died hard in England, but it died; there is an attempt in Nevada to make it go out in a blaze of glory. In "sporting" vernacular, there never was any "ish" on in Reno, but now the bottom has fallen out. By all accounts it is very much like a little hell. Visitors may therefore be supposed to be experimenting as a preliminary to prolonged purgatorial residence in another sphere.

THE SITUATION IN WHEAT

A Prominent Commission Firm Reviews Effect of the Dry Weather

Thomson, Sons & Co., grain commission agents, Winnipeg, send the following grain report for the last week: Wheat—In our weekly reviews of the wheat markets for the past two weeks we stated that the course of the prices in the immediate and more distant future was hinging on the probable outcome of this years' crops, with the emphasis on the spring wheat crop. At the risk of boring our readers we again repeat the foregoing statement, and the course of the wheat markets during the past seven days bears emphatic testimony to the correctness of our forecast. There has not been very much heard about the progress of the winter wheat crop in the United States, or even about the progress of the European crops during the past week, but every minute of every day the ear of the grain trading world in America and Europe has been strained to catch the latest reports regarding the weather over the spring wheat country of the U. S and Western Canada. We, ourselves, have been stirred up day by day by inquiries from friends in the U. S. and British markets, asking for reliable information as regards the condition and prospects of our Western Canadian crop, and anxious to convey a true impression we have often found it difficult to state to our own satisfaction in the limits of a telegram or cablegram just what we consider is the condition and outlook. At this writing, however, we regret to have to state that owing to a continuation of excessively hot weather, and lack of needed rainfall, the spring wheat crop has continued to deteriorate seriously. If regular readers of these reviews will turn backward over previous issues for several weeks they will find we have continually referred to the probability of this seasons crop not turning out well. On March 16th we wrote: "A seed-time so early as this in the west has seldom happened, and when it did has not been followed by a good season otherwise." On April 6, we wrote: Almost entire lack of rain in August, September and October last year has left the soil, both upper and subsoil, very dry, and two previous seasons like this in the last thirty years were followed by poor crop seasons." On May 11, we wrote, "The continuous drying winds without fresh supplies of rain are gradually making the country arid, but if only a wet spell of weather would set in soon prospects would improve; if it does not, then a spring wheat crop scare can be counted on in the next three weeks, which will send prices in the speculative markets up several cents." Some showers, however, started about May 12th, and although no general rain came, these showers allayed apprehension of damage for a time but they were only showers wetting the surface and their effect was soon dispelled by the unusual constant drying winds which prevailed, so that on June 1st we find ourselves writing: "What is needed over the whole spring wheat country is copious general rains with weather summer warmth." The month of May had been colder than usual. On June 8, we wrote: "The whole country needs a general rain, a week's wet weather and summer warmth along with it." On June 15, we wrote: "Some local showers have fallen, but generally the weather has been fair and warm, and there is no sign of the general spell of wet weather that the country needs so much, and which if it does not get quickly will result in considerable crop disappointment." From the foregoing extracts of our reviews, going back three and a half months, it will be seen that the present condition of the spring wheat crop of North America has not been caused solely by the hot and dry weather of the past two weeks, but the previous untoward experience of the crop, left it no stamina to stand up against the strain of tropical heat, unaccompanied by tropical moisture, or in fact, any moisture at all, which it has been subjected to in the last two weeks. During these two weeks there has been at least five days in which over Western Canada and at east northern North Dakota, the thermometer has ranged from 100 to 108 degrees in the shade, with on some days hot winds, as if coming from a furnace, and every day during the period, the heat has been far above summer normal, and unrelieved by moisture except in local showers over limited areas. The result is that in some districts, notably in southern Manitoba and northern North Dakota, farmers have begun to plow up wheat fields, thinking it better to summer fallow the land than allow the poor crop to mature. We have reports in the last few days of many fields having been so scorched by the heat and drouth as to be worthless. There are, mine well, having been favored with however, districts where the crop promises well, having been favored with sufficient rain. This is the case to a special extent along the main line of the C. P. R. in Saskatchewan, from about Moosomin to beyond Moose Jaw, a stretch of two hundred miles; also in the Yorkton district and in North Central Manitoba. More rain is needed even in these well-favored districts, as the extreme heat of the last three days has been telling adversely and if continued without moisture would result in checking development while good rains would help it, and make good yields. This, however, will not make up for the poor and destroyed crops of other districts, and at the present writing unless a great improvement takes place at once in the crop districts, we fear it is questionable if the Canadian West will this year raise more than half an average crop of wheat. Much depends on the weather, but it needs to be kept in mind that the season is fast advancing and the high temperature of the last two weeks has rushed the development of the grain abnormally, so that the weather condition which would have been of immense benefit two weeks ago, may have lost their opportunity of they come now, and every day's delay in their coming adds to their ineffectiveness.

OATS IN IRRIGATED LAND

Ben James, who has made the Lethbridge district famous for its oats, brought to the Herald office a sample of winter wheat that beats anything ever seen here this year. Mr. James is an irrigation farmer, and his wheat shows the advantage of having plenty of water.

This is the year, Mr James thinks, for the irrigation farmers. He has just finished up his hay. He had one hundred acres of timothy as good as any one would with to see. All his crop, wheat, oats and hay, is fine.

Mr. Jame's farm is in 12-8-21, nine miles southeast of Lethbridge.—Lethbridge Herald.

THOUGH OUT HIT, WE WON; NEARLY NIPPED IN NINTH

Eskimos Got Away in Lead and Were Never Headed —Score 7--6—Four Double Plays.

Somewhere the sun is shining, bands are playing, and all is bright and merry but Calgary is NOT that town.

Bill Carney led his band on the diamond last evening and received trouncing No. 2 which he took with very little gratification.

The Calgary fans and papers have been cherishing the notion that they sport the only ball team in captivity, and the sole way to beat them is by a miracle. Well, we are here to inform them eDacon White has rather a nifty aggregation which has the Indian sign on the Huskies at every turn of the cards. With two defeats chalked down, and a third staring him in the face, Carney is thinking seriously of cancelling the order for the flag staff. Cheer up, Bill, it will make good kindling wood for the cold winter months.

The story of Carneys pugilistic exploit yesterday afternoon, when he struck a me mber of the Edmonton baseball directorate, was noised around the grounds and the fans gave the visiting manager a busy evening. There will be something more heard about this in the near future.

Standridge started the game for Calgary, and was batted out of the box. Paddock, who succeeded Peter, did much better and also proved himself a dangerous batter, as three singles and a triple will show

Hickey pitched so-so ball for Edmonton, being wild and hit freely. Fast double plays saved him on several occasions. He's is bothered at present with a sore thumb and is unable to control his curve ball. When he gets in shape, he will have them all guessing.

It was an exciting game for the 1500 fans to watch as there was scoring in nearly every innings. The Eskimos got awaln in the lead scoring in three innings, getting together seven runs. On the other hand the Huskies scored 6. One at a time and had the crowd very much on anxious seat in the ninth when they made the score 7--6 with none out. Chesty's double play made their chances look slim.

Jack Grady will probably work tonight against Manning and should pull out ahead.

A Charming Story

Paddock, first up, was nipped at first on a classy play by Brennan and Bill Carney, the pugilist, fanned, much to the delight of the bleachers. The plate then commenced to swim before Hickey's eyes, and he walked Clynes, Smith and Kellackey. Fannagan delivered a hit and Babe scored. Connors was thrown out at first, when Hickey knocked down his swift bounder. One run.

A Furious Fusilade

Smiling Peter Standridge started pitching for Calgary and what was done to Pete was a shame. Mills, Baxter and Morse all delivered clean singles the first scoring. Chesty went out, short to first, but Lussi was there with bells on and scored Baxter and Morse. Boll took second, on the throw to home, stole third and scored on Stub's sacrifice Quigley an easy out. Four runs.

Huskies Gather One

Hickey was still in an unsettled state and walked Stanley who took second on Peter Standridge sacrifice, Paddock hit to left, advancing Stanley to third. Matt, scored on Carneys double. Clynes then flied to Lussi and Bill by a perfect throw caught Paddock at the plate, making a lovely double. One run.

Paddock Takes Mound

Carney switched his team considerably in this round, Stanley going to the bench, Standridge to centre, Paddock to the box, Duggan to shortstop and Flannagan donning the mask Brennan was first out and Hickey hit safely. There was an overthrow, which bounded back from the bleachers and Hick was thrown out at second. Mills flied to Smith, in a close try for a hit. No runs.

A Fast Double

The visitors were not dangerous in the third. Smith led off with a single and was doubled at second when Kellackey hit to Morse. Flannagan out, Baxter to Hickey, who covered first in fine style.

Baxter walked and was caught off first. Morse and Cox fanned.

Moose in Evidence

Brennan, Spencer and Baxter retired the visitors in the fourth, Moose getting the three put-outs. He dug one throw out of the dirt in fine style

We Score Two

Lussi reached first on Duggans error, a throw which pulled Kell. off the bag. Stub was on hand with the ready sacrifice. Quigley hit a clean cut single to left. Bill being held on third. John Brennan offered at three, choosing a low one for the third. Flannagan allowed the ball to percolate through him, Lussi scoring and Brennan reaching first. Quigley led off third and Flannagan took a snap throw in that direction. The ball hit our captain and rolled towards left, another run scoring. Brennan tried to take third in the confusion and was grabbed. Hickey fanned. Two runs.

Their Usual One

Paddock started the fifth with a hit and was doubled up, along with William the Gentle, via the Morse-Baxley-Baxter overland route. Cynes dropped a Texas leaguer in centre which was just out of Lussi's reach and looked like Quigley's ball. Smith lifted another which Lussi got to but couldn't hold, and Clynes, who had stolen second, scored. Kellackey flied to Morse. One run.

Nothing for Ours

Mills out, Connors to Baxter Baxter drew his second pass and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Morse and Cox flied to Corrors and Clynes.

Quigley went right over to second bag and snatched Fannagan's grounder, getting the fiery-haired boy at first. Connors and Duggan were both retired on grounders to the infield.

Lussi's Second Hit

Bill Lussi combed one to right for a single and refused to fall for Bill Carney's foxy stunt. Stub, the champion sacrificer of Alberta and Saskatchewan produced his third of the day Lussi made a clean steal of third and scored when Clynes muffed Quigley's sacrifice fly. Quig. was caught flat-footed off first and run to earth Brennan fanned. One run.

The Busy Paddock.

Standridge was thrown out at first by Brennan. Paddock hit safely to left and Carney followed with an error. Brennan missed a throw to catch Clynes at third. Clynes hit safely and Paddock scored. Carney got the idea he was speedy and tried to make the home station also A relayed throw, Lussi to Hickey to Spencer, got Billie by a city block. Was he angry? Smith hit a long fly to Lussi. One run.

Moose Gets 1000 P.C.

Baxter thought that a perfect average for the day would look well, so he proceeded to drive out a double after Hickey had fanned and Mills popped to Duggan. Pete Morse hit one a mile to left field but Clynes was the grabbing Kid and got to it. No runs.

Huskies Draw Coser

Kellackey, he of the plaintive whine, led off the eighth with a stinging double to right and stole third. Flannagan walked and Connors flied to Lussi. Kel feared Bill's strong right arm and remained on third, scoring a moment later when Duggan grounded out. Standridge was the third victim.

Cox walked and took second on Lussi's perfect bunt. Spencer and Quigley didn't trouble the visitors much.

So Near and Yet so Far

Paddock commenced the ninth with a mighty triple to left and the fans were decidedly anxious when Carney hit safely, scoring Del. Clynes hit a short one to right which good old Chesty got under and doubled Carney off first—Blame me, but how the fans did josh William Smith knocked a puny grounder to Hickey and the game was put away on ice.

DELL PITCHES TODAY

Slim Dell had made up his mind to leave Edmonton this morning, but Deacon had a long conference with the big fellow last evening, and in the end he consented to stay until the end of this week. He will pitch against Calgary tonight.

SACRIFICE HITS

Random Jots Speared Behind the Home Plate—Oh, You Wire Screen!

Imagine the Maroons getting 13 hits against Brandon.

It is a cold day when Morse and Mills do not get a hit.

Chesty just about saved the game in the ninth.

Gaddy spent a busy evening shagging balls behind home plate.

Every time Carney saw a policeman he shuddered.

Longanecker did not allow Hickey very many corners.

There is one thing about the Calgary team that we admire. They fight right to the bitter end.

Double plays were as welcome as the flowers in May and nearly as numerous.

Bill Carney made four hits yesterday. One during the afternoon and three in the game.

Stub Spenser gave a fine exposition of how to lay down sacrifice hits. He made three of these useful little plays and also caught Carney at the plate.

Del Paddock is some hitter. Four hits in five times up is going some. Jack Brennn robbed him of a hit on the other occasion.

The latest song hit is entitled "Longie, that ball hit me." The music has a plaintive refrain and was composed by Harry Von Tilzer Kellackey.

Bill Lussi continues to put up a star game Last night he made three runs, two hits, three putouts and the same number of assists. His error was a very hard chance.

Well, we hear strange things but this is the latest: Manager Walters, of Regina, informs the Regina Leader that Dr. Casey, the Detroit scout, is much impresed with Pitcher Skeels, and may make an offer for him.

Mat Stanley of the Huskies got a telegram yesterday, signed "Jeffries." It read, "He hit me when I wasn't looking. From now on, will be a fisherman." Johnny Mackin, the Lethbridge jollier, is suspected.

Moose Baxter's peppery play is the feature of the Eskimos work these days. Moose went to bat four times last night, drew two passes, and knocked out a single and a double. In the field he had 17 putouts and one assist. A good day's work.

HOT AIR FROM CALGARY

The Calgary Albertan, for some unknown reason, is trying to have the fact mooted around the circuit that there is dissention in the Edmonton camp. It i sa base fibel, as everything is lovely and the men are working well. As a well-known writer remarks, "It is the crabbers that make a championship team," so if the Eskimos ever do check one another up, it is merely from ambition and keeness to win games. Also, it is a mighty good sign, when the players are in the game at every moment.

This is the Alberta's latest effusion:

"At Medicine Hat the Edmonton team nearly had an insurrection," one of the Hatters said. A couple of Eskimos disagreed with the manager and had consigned the Deacon to a place where they don't use people of that profession. Things were patched up, however.

Deacon White comes mighty near being the most successful manager in the Western Canada League and nobody knows it better than the Calgary scribes.

"POWERS DAY" DRAWS 12,000

Boston, New York, Washington and Athletics Held a Field Day at Phila.--New Record Set

Philadelphia, Pa., July 6.—Twelve thousand spectators attended the "Powers day" celebration at Shibe park today when the memory of the dead player was commemorated by a benefit for his widow and children. Players from the Boston, New York, Washington, and Philadelphia American leagues participated in the various events.

Lord, of Boston beat a bunt to first in .03 1-5.

Donohue, of Philadelphia, won a prize for the most accurate throwing.

In the base circling contest Collins of Philadelphia, equalled the world's record of 14 1-5; Austin of New York and Speaker, of Boston, tied for second at 14 3-5.

Hooper of oBston won the long distance throwing contest with a throw of 356 feet 4 inches. Speaker was second with 345 feet 7½ inches.

Austin won the 100 yard dash on the turf in :10 3-5. Hooper was second

Stahl of Boston, won the 100 yard dash for men weighing more than 200 lbs, with Vaughn of New York second. The time was :10 2-5.

Dygert of Philadelphia, won the fungo hitting contest.

Austin was the only contestant who succeeded in throwing the ball over second base from the catcher's position, beneath a bar six feet high at the pitcher's box.

In the relay race circling the bases, Boston and Philadelphia tied at 14 3-5. In the run off both teams again tied at 14 2-5. The local team won the toss.

Only six innings were played in the baseball game between the Philadelphia team and the team composed of players from the other clubs, to locals winning, 5 to 3

FIFTEEN ROUNDS ARE SHOWN

Manager Kyle of the Empire has secured for July 7, 8, 9 the fight pictures of the greatest of all contests, those of the Nelson-Wolgast fight. The first performance will begin at 2.30, lasting nearly one hour, the second at 4 o'clock and the evening performances at 7.45 and 9.15 o'clock. Fifteen rounds are shown in all, beginning with the training quarters where the youngsters put in their preliminaries in preparation for what was beyond any question the greatest fight in ring history. Then follows the rounds, embracing the principal ones showing at times the aggressiveness of that gamest of fighters, Battling Nelson, and the cautious, but willing, Wolgast ever on the lookout as to when he could send over the blow that would have made him the champion. It never was "sent over," but after going the 40 rounds he got what he had been fighting for, the lightweight championship of the world.

A GREAT CRICKETER

John T. Tyldesley has Made nearly 1000 Runs Already This Season

The cricketer of the moment is John T. Tyldesley, known for his brilliance the world over. He is batting as well as ever he did in his life, and under wicket and weather conditions not altogether favorable to run-getting. He is a long way in front of any other batsman and he will soon have collected a thousand runs. For the third time in his wonderful career he scored a second separate hundred in a match. This distinction he won in Lancashire's game with Hampshire, Tyldesley played a glorious innings of 136, and on the following day he made 101. Thirteen years ago Tyldesley at Birmingham scored 106 and 100 not out against Warwickshire, and, three seasons later, for North against South, at Hastings, he ran up 121 and 100 not out. With Tyldesley doing so well Lancashire, as may be supposed, are having a great time. They have not yet known defeat. All their batsmen have at some time this season been remarkable successful. Kent, the champion county, were defeated by Leicestershire, Leicestershire are playing a very fine game. Yorkshire, for the moment, seem to have lost their greatness. Following a defeat by Kent, they played Essex and were beaten by ten wickets.

WEALTHY SPORT WRITER

On Careful Examination it was Found he had 5 cents in the Bank.

Hamilton, July 6.—The feud between F. C. Mills, late sporting editor of the Times, and M. M. Robinson, sporting editor of the Spectator, will not down. Every now and then it crops up in the court list in some form or another Mr. Robinson failed to settle the judgment Mr. Mills secured against him and as a consequence, whenever Mr. Robinson helps to promote a sporting event here, Mr. Mills puts in an attachment for the gate receipts Mr. Mills recently put an attachment on the Spectator man's bank account, and when the manager was examined before Judge Monk yesterday it was found that Mr. Robinson had five cents standing to his account.

GOOD OLD CY YOUNG

Old Cy Young is the wonder of the age. He is 49 years of age and yesterday he pitched his 499th big-league victory. Read that. Not his 499th big league game, and not his 499th game in any company, but his 499th big league victory. He allowed only two hits. On August 5, 1904, the old man pitched the most remarkable game known to baseball. In the box for the Boston Americans he shut out the Philadelphia team without a hit or a run and not a man reached first in any way.

A FOOISH WAGER

Out of a bantering match at Sheepshead Bay between C Foote and Harry Abramson, one of the greatest wagers of the season was made. Foote asked what price King James was for place in the Advance. "1 to 1000 for you," was the reply. "Bet you a thousand," returted Foote. "You're on," said Abramson. When the race was on Abramson was rooting hard for King James to either commit a foul or drop dead. The Plaudit colt did neither, and Foote collected the one case note.

A WORLD'S RECORD

In an account of a recent game between Cubs and Roger Bresnahans St. Louis outfit, the Chicago Tribune says

"The first inning, which broke about seventeen world's records, lasted 46 minutes. It ended 9 to 5 in favor of St. Louis. The Cardinals had tied the Cubs' score before a solitary man had fouled a ball. The shoulders of Roger's players must have been sore from acting as steady supports for bats."

RESULTS AT HENLEY

Henley, Eng., July 5.—The fololwing heats for the Diamond Sculls were rowed off today:

Second heat—Dewar, London, beat Mundrey, Oxford, easily in 9:20.

Third seat—D. W. Kinnear had to row over, Stahnke, of Germany, having withdrawn.

Fourth heat—Randolph Lucas of Germany beat Mansell Mouflin of Cambridge in 9:11.

Fifth heat—Edge rowed over, Alexander McCulloch having withdrawn.

AT THE CALGARY FAIR

LE PAGE AND POTTS

There will be a choice tid-bit provided for the wrestling fans of Edmonton on July 12th, when George Le Page and Jimmy Potts hook up for a bout.

These mat artists will wrestle for an hour and Le Page will undertake to throw his opponent twice in that time or take the short end of the purse. The contest will be held in the Thistle Rink and should draw a bumper house as both men are there with the goods.

George Le Page gave an exposition of his skill when he threw three local men in 21 minutes, while Potts is well and favorably known in this neighborhood.

Why Did Mr. W. H. Cushing Resign his Portfolio?

special trip to Calgary immediately before the election to show that his heart was in the right place and beat true to Cushing in the days of stress and turmoil. There are some who say that he was willing to assist in every way possible the candidacy of the honorable gentleman who had stayed so faithfully with him during the formative period of Alberta's policy in regard to bridge building and other structural works.

F. C. McMath at Calgary

Be that as it may, F. C. McMath was registered at the Yale Hotel, Calgary on March 16th, 1909, six days before the Provincial Elections, and had converse with W. H. Cushing on that occasion. On the following day Mr. McMath left Calgary and in due time found his way back to Detroit, Michigan.

Five days after that the elections took place and Mr. Cushing was triumphantly elected at the head of the poll. He and his friends claimed that it was a great personal victory for him, in that his moral fibre, religious life, consistent temperance attitude in long years and probity and integrity were the contributing forces; in the light of subsequent events it looks as though a strong contributing force was F. C. McMath, of Detroit, president and general Manager of the Canadian Bridge Company, Limited, of Walkerville, Ont.

Then W. H. C. Went East

Five days after the election Mr. Cushing hied himself east. The Laymen's Missionary Congress was billed to hold a series of meetings in Toronto and desired the presence of the Minister of Public Works. In due time he arrived on the scene and was given a full opportunity to make his presence felt on the platform of the Association assembled. But although every prospect appeared to please, there was a fly in E's ointment, and shortly after arriving in Toronto he sent a telegram to a friend in Edmonton regretting that up to the time of wiring he (Mr. Cushing) had not seen Mr. McMath.

A Draft for $4,500

It has been said that if the mountain will not go to Mahomet, Mahomet must go to the mountain, and so it came to pass, that on or about April 10th, 1909, Minister of Public Works Cushing was in Detroit and saw his friend the President and general manager of the Canadian Bridge Company, Limited, Mr. F. C. McMath, and the arrangement that was made in Calgary six days before the day for holding the Provincial Elections, was carried out. That such was the case was evidenced by the fact that on the day he negotiated personally a draft for $4,000.00, a fac simile of which is presented herewith, for as the good Scotch proverb says, "Facts are chiels that winna ding and daurna be disputit."

Said He Borrowed it.

If, as Mr. Cushing swore to in his cross-examination, this amount was borrowed from Mr. McMath or the company which that gentleman represented ,the fact remains that a minister of the Crown for the province of Alberta was guilty of placing himself under obligation to a company which had been doing business for years with the department in the government of the province of Alberta, which was presided over by Mr. Cushing, and places him under an imputation which would discredit him in the eyes of every right thinking person. If, on the other hand, the money was obtained to liquidate the election expenses of the Minister of Public Works his last state is worse than his first and lays him open to the charge of prostituting his high office to the purposes of graft of the meanest and most venal character. He has his choice as to the horns of the dilemma

Some More

But that is not all that is to be said in reference to Mr. Cushing and his proclivities along this line. In the witness box he swore that his trip to Detroit was on purely private business. If that be so, and no one desires to impute perjury to M. Cushing, for his statement on the witness stand, how comes it that on his return home he put in and certified to the statement over his own signature that he had incurred $204.00 of expenses during the trip and that the said expenditure was incurred on government business. Accompanying this article is a fac simile of the expense account presented by Mr. Cushing and the first three items cover the period during which he was absent on his trip to the Toronto session of the Laymen's Missionary Congress and his visit to Detroit to see his friend, F. C. McMath, the president and general manager of the Canadian Bridge Company, Limited, of Walkerville, Ont.

Francis Bacon and Robert Walpole have gone down into British history as exemplars of the dictum that every man has his price, but to the credit of both these grafters it may be said that neither of them ever undertook to prove that others were grafters and that they were absolutely free from the taint.

The above deals with one phase of the activity of this would-be guardian of public morality, but there are a number of other cases equally flagrant and some more so.

Mr. Cushing's Resignation

In view of these revelations it is little wonder that Mr. Cushing resigned immediately after Mr. Buchanan was appointed to the new portfolio of Minister of Municipalities, Roads and Bridges which was to be created when the legislature was in session. The appointing of Mr. Buchanan would have taken the manipulating of the structural steel contracts entirely out of the hands of Mr. Cushing and would have deprived him of the opportunity to have had any further dealings with Mr McMath or the company which the latter represented. Mr. Cushing's resignation took place on February 14th, 1910, within ten days after Mr. Buchanan's appointment by order in council at a full meeting of the provincial cabinet on February 4th, 1910. And the reason for his action in resigning appears to be good and sufficient.

POLICE REPORT FOR JUNE

The report of the police department for the month of June has been forwarded to the city commissioners. It shows that during the month there was $251 collected in fines, $547.55 in payment for licenses, and $59.80 in payment for dog tags. Out of fifty arrests for drunkenness there were 49 convicted. There were two convictions of forgery, one of theft, and five of non-payment of wages. In the latter case there were three charges dismissed and four withdrawn. There was one conviction in connection with the sale of adulterated food and two convictions of parties for driving at excessive speed. During the month lost and stolen property to the extent of $5174.50 was recovered and returned to the owners.

$18,000,000 INCREASE

Montreal, July 5.—Figures published today show the results of the Canadian Pacifics fiscal year to June 30. Taking the company's approximate figures for June along with the official statement for the previous eleven months, the gross earnings total $94,585,000, an increase for the year of $18,272,000. The net earnings total $33,522,000, an increase of $10,767,000. These results exceed anything in the history of the road in the way of gains for a single year.

NO ONE TO BLAME

Montreal, July 6.—Upon the bringing in of the verdict of the coroner's jury freeing all concerned from blame the investigation into the cause of the Herald disaster has been concluded. Some of the most important testimony of the inquest was that of Mr Walter J. Francis, civil engineer of Toronto University, with membership in Canadian and American societies of civil engineers. He was of the opinion that faulty floor construction was responsible fo rthe disaster.

$30,000 BLAZE AT NELSON, B.C.

Fire Broke Out in Shingle Mill and Threatened Whole Town

Nelson, B. C., July 6.—Fire today destroyed over $30,000 worth of Nelson property and was the most dangerous and costly conflagration experienced here in a decade.

Fire broke out in Kreycher shingle mill on Water street early this afternoon and fanned by strong wind threatened fire in east end of the city. When brought under control it had destroyed the shingle mill, Kootenay Engineering Works plant, Kootenay Laundry building, houseboat and other residences.

Mystery surrounds the origin of the fire, which broke out in the saw dust and shingle cuttings far from any known fire, as the mill was operated by electric power.

By the time the brigade arrived, the shingle, engineering works, and houseboat occupied by Kreycher and his family were a mass of flames and several roofs soon fell in.

The heat was so intense that the firemen could not approach within 50 yards of the fire and the water turned to steam and floated away on the breeze. Showers of sparks and flying embers increased the danger and caused the fire to break out far from the scene of the main fire. After heroic efforts the fire was got under control. No insurance was carried on shingle mill, the loss of which is $5,000. Kootenay engineering works is valued at $20,000, and was insured for $12,000, were not operated and the debenture bonds are held by the Imperial Bank. C. W. Whittmore of Big Harbor, Wash., owned two of the burned residences, valued at $3,000, with no insurance; George Trimm of Spokane, owns the building of the Kootenay laundry, valued at $2,200, with $500 insurance. Captain Patterson's residence valued at $1000, also burned. This building carried $800 insurance. Two streams of water are still playing on the ruins, which are surrounded by piles of lumber owned by the Yale Columbia company.

Ninety-Nine Per Cent.

Of the Real Bargains go to those who read ads. ! !

You can't afford to align yourself with the one-chance-in-a-hundred people—with those who "haven't time" to read ads., and who, therefore spend hours of useless "looking" for the bargain, to which the ad-reader has found the straight road!

The "100th person" who who finds a genuine bargain that was not advertised, may succeed now and then. All of the "99" who read and answer ads. may find real bargains—Buying Opportunities.

So that bargain-hunting and bargain-offering adjust themselves to this law:

99 per cent. of the bargain-hunters being ad-readers, 99 per cent. of the bargain-offerers are advertisers! And, not less important, 99 per cent. of the real bargain offers made by the advertisers in this paper are "accepted" by the value-knowing readers of this paper!

nor any member of the legislature made any profit out of the sale of them.

One Hundred Witnesses

Nearly a hundred witnesses were examined and the number of exhibits produced was two hundred and fifty-one, many of these exhibits being files containing over a hundred letters.

The cost of the investigation is estimated at close on $12,000, which does not include the salaries of lawyers not officially appointed by the legislature, there being six of these who will draw independent salaries from their clients. In addition to the three judges two lawyers and the official secretary to the commission; there are three court reporters and four typists continuously at work on the evidence.

The commission, after flitting from Edmonton to Winnipeg, Winnipeg to Toronto, and Toronto back to Edmonton, has at last found its resting place, and settled down, as Mr. Nolan was heard to remark, into "Peace, perfect peace."

Yesterday Afternoon

The evidence given at the afternoon session of the Royal Commission yesterday was on the whole very unenlightening. Mr. Thom was in the box part of the time and the old matter of the removal of the files was revived, and Mr. Thom explained again why and when they had been removed. It had been done in a perfectly open manner, he said, with the knowledge of Mr. Cross.

Mr. Jones, the government engineer, and Mr. Chalmers, the public works engineer, were both examined as to their estimates of the cost of the A. & G. W., which were compared as to the figures.

Mr. Charlesworth, chief clerk to Mr. Stocks, was put in the box at the beginning of the afternoon sitting.

Questioned by Mr. Walsh he said that he had had nothing to do with the A. & G. W. matter. In November, 1908, he was at the evening meeting between Clarke, Waddell, Goddard and Minty and certified that the class of road and description of the country was the only matter discussed and that there was no mention made of the guaranteeing of the bonds. He had some recollection of Stocks and Chalmers disagreeing with Waddell as to the class of road that should be built. Dr. Waddell wished to construct a poorer road than Mr. Stocks wished. Mr. Goddard was present and had a general sketch of the country.

Thom Gives Evidence

Mr. Thom, secretary to Hon. C. W. Cross, was next put on the stand. Mr. Thom said that when Woods and Clarke had gone to New York to deliver the bonds Mr. Cross went east, but that he did not know at the time where he had gone to. He received a telegram from Woods, who was on his way to Calgary, but was not able to give him any information as to his whereabouts. A second telegram from Mr. Woods brought forth an answer from Mr. Thom that Mr. Cross would be in New York at a certain date.

Asked by Mr. Walsh ho whe came to know where Mr. Cross was, he said he did not know where he got it—it asn't accurate information, but it turned out right.

The Removal of the Files

Mr. Walsh—"Now, Mr. McKinnon gave evidence, as to the removal of the files—perhaps you would like to give your version?"

Mr. Thom said that he was not particular whether he did or no'

"Some were taken," he said, "the evening that Mr. McKinnon speaks of. There did not seem to be any reason why I should not do so. Mr. Cross told me he had a room in his house that he could use as an office."

"You started the preparatory work of getting together the files, yourself?"

"Yes!"

"At what time?"

"About 11 o'clock."

"How did you come to meet McKinnon?"

"I phoned to him bout 10 o'clock from my house."

"Then what?"

Took McKinnon Driving

"I drove to the club and then round to McKinnon's apartments. Then we drove round a couple of blocks and down to the parliament buildings."

"Why didn't you drive straight down?"

"There was no reason why I shouldn't drive a man round two blocks if I want to talk to him."

"Mr. McKinnon said you drove out the west, and, that is why I asked. When you got to the building were the files ready?"

"No, I went through the correspondence. I told him I had work to do and he could take the rig and go home."

"What sort of files were they?"

"Mostly dead files of Mr. Cross' private papers. A few days after I took some more private files home in the middle of the day and the third time I took Mr. Bradley with me."

"Had Mr. Cross resigned?"

"Yes! Mr. Cross had resigned that afternoon."

No One Interested

In answer to a question Mr. Thom then said that he had no knowledge of any persons interested in either company and that he knew of no promise of money made to anyone.

Mr. Nolan then said he had one question to ask: "You had a copy of Mr. Cushing's speech made at Bankview, where did you get it?"

"From Mr. Trowbridge."

Chalmers Called Next

The next witness was Mr. Chalmers, assistant engineer to the Public Works department. He was at both the meetings of November 13th and confirmed the other evidence of what was done at them. Questioned as to the estimates, he said that he had made an informal estimate for Mr. Cushing taken from public maps and based on the general geographical features of the country. This estimate was between $12,000 and $13,000, which did not include three items that would come to about $3,000. He was then informed that Mr. Jones, the government engineer, had made a totally different estimate, but Mr. Chalmers said he saw no reason for changing his own.

W. R. Jones' Evidence

W. R. Jones, engineer to the government, was then put in the box and stated that he had made an estimate of $24,000 with a twenty per cent. addition for contingencies. Mr. Jones said that he saw no reason to change his figures and he thought they would be about right.

Mr. Walsh then said that he had received a letter from Morgan's, the English firm, who bought the A. & G. W. bonds, and asked that it might be put in as evidence. Mr. Nolan supported him in his request as also did Judge Beck, but Mr. Justice Scott and Judge Harvey would not permit it. Mr. Walsh said that there were two more witnesses. One was Mr. Clarke, whom there did not seem to be any possibility of getting, and the other was Mr. Biggar, who after his operation in Toronto would not be able to travel until the 20th of July by his doctor's orders, and who requested that he should not be brought back to Edmonton, but could go away for a holiday. Mr. Walsh said that his evidence would mostly be repetition of former evidence and said he would be very reluctant to bring him back after his illness. There were two courses open, he said, to close the commission or to adjourn till September.

The commission then adjourned till 12 o'clock today, when their decision as to the adjournment was announced.

News of Victory of Big Black Sets Negroes Crazy All Over States

SOME KILLED IN FIGHTS

U. S. Marines and Sailors Were Called Out at Norfolk, Va., to Clear Streets

Norfolk, Va., July 5.—Many negroes are in the hospital with broken heads and bruised bones as a result of attacks by 400 sailors, who following news of the fight at Reno, marched through the streets last night hunting for negroes. They beat one negro almost to death against the post office building. Practically every cell at headquarters and the second precinct station is filled with negroes, sailors and young whites. Police Chief Kiser requested Major L. W. T. Aller at the navy yards, to send assistance and a detachment of marines and sailors heavily armed was hurried to the city. The situation was under control before morning.

Two Seriously Injured

Washington, July 5.—In a fight between negroes and white men over the championship battle at Reno, Thomas Mundle, of the U. S. Marine corps, had his throat cut and is at the Cassidy hospital in a serious condition. Another white man who was found unconscious late at night in Pennsylvania avenue after a free for all fight was taken to the hospital, where it was discovered that he had sustained concussion of the brain. Several other participants in street fights were reported seriously injured.

Conductor Shot Down

Tallahhah, La., July 5.—When Conductor Roberts of the Iron Mountain Railway demanded fare of Enos Stetson, a negro, near here yesterday afternoon, the latter shot Roberts down. The conductor is probably mortally wounded. Stetson jumped from the train and he is being sought for by a large posse today. That he will be lynched if captured seems certain.

FILTRATION PLANT IN ORDER NEXT SATURDAY

Commissioner Bouillon Had Conference With the Company's Representative

Commissioner Bouillon had a conference yesterday afternoon with E. C. Boyle, the representative of the Roberts Manufacturing Company, who is examining the filtration plant with a view of bettering its condition. It has been shown that the strainers are clogged with concrete and also that the piping is filled to a large extent with mud. This reason for the inefficiency of the plant had been advanced by Mr. Bouillon, who says that he has seen the strainers in that dition himself.

It is now expected that the plant will be in operation by Saturday evening, and a gang of extra men has been set to work to rush the work of cleansing as rapidly as possible.

At the conference Mr. Bouillon suggested that to overcome the sedimentation basin difficulty a number of baffle plates be installed and it is probable that the suggestion will be acted upon. It has not been decided, however, whether the level of the water will be raised and the filters fed by gravity or whether the centrifugal pump will be operated to raise the water level two feet to the gravity outlet.

MADRID HOAX IN ALBERTA

fact many persons have been swindled by the clever operations of this gang.

The gang begins by dispatching the following letter simultaneously to different parties. The letter is the same as the one received by two farmers in Lacombe, whose names have been withheld at the request of the mounted police:

Madrid, Spain, May 5th, 1910.

Although I know you only from good references as to your honesty, my sad situation compels me to reveal to you an important affair in which you can procure a modest fortune, saving that at the same time of my darling daughter.

Before being imprisoned here I was established as a banker in Russia, as you will see by the enclosed article about me which appeared in many English papers, which have published my arrest in London. I beseech you to help me to obtain a sum of $450,000 which I have in America and to come here to raise the seizure of my baggage, paying to the registrar of the court the expenses of my trial and recover my portmanteau in which I have hidden the document indispensible to the recovery of the said sum.

As a reward I will give you a third part, viz: $160,000.

I cannot receive your answer in the prison, but you must sent a cablegram to a person in my confidence who will deliver it to me.

Awaiting your cable to instruct you in all my secret I am, sir,

Yours truly,
DEMIDOFF.

P. S.—First of all answer by cable, not by letter, as follows: G. Gomalver, Yacometreze, 23 tercere A, Madrid—D.

One of the farmers who receiver the letter immediately cabled to the address given and in as short a time as possibly received a long letter consisting of five closely written pages of foolscap, in which the whole history of the writer, who this time signed himself, "Alexander Demidoff," was given. elf said that some time ago he was about to be arrested for fraudulent bankruptcy in Russia and was compelled to fly. Prior to his flight, nowever, he sent his daughter in company with a lady friend to Spain. Fifteen days afterwards he sailed for Amercia and proceeded to Chicago where he says he deposited $450,000 in a bank there and obtained for same a cheque to bearer. Keeping 600,000 francs in ready money he placed the cheque in a secret pocket in his portmanteau and embarked for Spain to meet his daughter. During the time he was in America he was in disguise and under an assumed name. Shortly after his arrival in Spain he says that the companion of his daughter stole all his ready money from him. He afterwards ran across her brother and told him what his sister had done. The brother cooly told him that his sister had committed the theft on his instructions and that if he (Demidoff) made any complant he would expose him as an embezzler. According to the letter Demidoff thereupon drew a revolver and shot him fatally. He fled to England and was arrested sent back to Spain, and was sentenced to five years in prison.

He then goes on to explain why he chose the addressee for the part which he asks him to play saying that a countryman of his (the addressee) was with him in prison, and had spoken of him as an honest man.

Enclosed in the same envelope were instructions to be followed by the victim in the voyage and giving outlines of the cypher cables he was to send from various points in transit.

Superintendent Cuthbert of the Mounted police, when seen this morning characterizes the whole thing as a most audacious attempt at a swindle. The superintendent was also acquainted with the modus operandi and told of many people that had been victimized by it. He extended a warning to the people of the province

DISPUTE IS NOT SETTLED AS YET

Will Take a Day or Two More to Arrange Mass of Details

Montreal, July 6.—No conclusion of the dispute between the Trainmen and Conductors of the Canadian Pacific and the company had been reached yesterday as had been hoped, not because any further disagreement had been encountered, but because the mass of details for settlement of the various schedules and arrangements proved too great to be handled.

In fact, it is stated that the conferences may last a couple of days yet before the whole matter is concluded.

A CENTRAL PARK IS MUCH NEEDED

Band Concerts Are Good, But There Is No Place for People to Sit Down

The band concert by the band of the 101st Fusiliers at the bandstand on College avenue last evening was an excellent one. A varied and well arranged programme was presented, some of the best numbers being: Waltz, "Mia Cara" (Bucatossi), which set everyone humming; the euphonium solo, "The Minstrel Boy," by J. B. Daly and the selections from grand opera.

A fair number of people attended the concert; the only drawback to which was the absence of any place, except the rather scanty and somewhat damp grass, where one could sit down. The band concert would really be a feature of every week, and draw twice the number of music lovers, if there only was a centrally located park, plentifully provided with seats where, after the day's work was over, the worker could go and listen to the music and enjoy the cool of the evening. As it is the attendance is small, a large majority of the people walk down to the bandstand and stand until they are tired and then go home again. The band and the programme are excellent. The location is the only disadvantage.
